Here are the questions and answers to Q&A Session number 9:

QUESTION 1: How do we get placed in the life and circumstances we are given? Is it chosen by us (being manipulated and shamed for our 'sins' before we get here)? And do we agree to specific life challenges, setbacks etc.? Some people are born into horrible lives— is it all luck of the draw? Do good deeds ever lead to positive outcomes, or is it just randomly generated? What about bullies in jobs, we are forced to work for low vibrational narcissists, despite our knowledge of the Matrix--coupled with our greatest efforts to help other people with love and compassion? Is there a relief? Do we just hang in there till we die? Retirement age keeps moving up.

ANSWER: We usually have no say in where we will be reincarnated, despite what we hear from some people. This is why we sometimes see quite enlightened people in primitive jungle tribes, etc. We carry our experiences with us, buried under a veil of amnesia. Ultimately, we put ourselves in the situations we are in by the choices we make. Although many people do not want to admit this or look at this truth, very few people are true victims of their life's circumstances. Yes, good deeds always lead to positive outcomes in one way or another. That outcome might not come immediately, but the growth we experience by making choices that are the most beneficial for everyone always bring us forward and closer to that which we intend for ourselves. We have to be mindful of what we are feeling at a core level. THIS is what tends to lead us in one direction or another. We can have all the positive thoughts, affirmations, deeds, and affections on a surface level, but at our core level, if we are vibrating at a very low state of being, this is the path we are following. As for work situations, we all have choices here, as well. These choices may seem impossible or very hard, but that does not mean the choices are not available. No one is living your life but you. If you are not in a situation which is beneficial to yourself, then change it. Only you can make the changes you wish to experience. This can be very difficult, we understand. It takes very much courage to step out of what is comfortable and dare to be authentic and true to yourself and what you really want. Good luck!

QUESTION 2: It has always perplexed me, does one become a Hermit and reject all connections and have no loved ones or does one just detach emotionally and recognise that the things we feel are just inserted programs to fulfill Enki's plan and keep us distracted, perhaps pets were put here to make us form attachments and as one wise commentator said, to also harvest our emotions.

...What would you do if Jesus appeared to you and told you that if you wanted to get to the Gates of Orion (assuming they were convincing enough and you believed it), you must continue your journey without any attachments to loved ones and be on your own. When is an attachment an attachment? I suppose two awakened people understand this, so it might not apply, but who makes the rules...?

ANSWER: You've answered your own question here. We should not worry about other family members' journeys, as everyone has their own individual lives which will bring them individual experiences where they will make their own choices according to what is beneficial for them. There is enough work involved on our own individual journey that to take on someone else's journey, as well, will ultimately become a distraction away from what we should be doing and focusing on. THIS is the attachment. An attachment is an emotional investment and the taking in of another person's spiritual progress as if it were our own. We should love, nurture, and care for others (as well as pets, if appropriate) while we are here. There is very much to be gained from healthy relationships that are built with love! However, we need to be mature enough to allow others to make their own decisions that benefit them, even if they are not what we would want for that person. The "wanting" of someone to do something for what WE think is best for them is impeding on that other person's Freewill of choice and we are taking on and assuming the role of that person's experiences and journey as our own. We need to act with love and be willing to allow others to make their own decisions even if we disagree with them. If we really want what is best for others, then allowing them to make their own choices is what is best.

If I met Jesus in life or after death, I'd go the opposite way. Of course, those who don't have the information we have would naturally go with him.

QUESTION 3: Could you please do something on Aldebaran if you have anything, and some of the 3rd Reich secret societies and earlier Gnostics and Templar connections to it? That stuff always fascinated me. There is almost no material on this in all that cosmic disclosure scene or however to name it (or anywhere else for that matter), and if there is, it always puts bad light on all of that, which I find suspicious.

ANSWER: I don't have much information on Aldebaran, other than it's the star system to which En.ki fled after he was cast out of Orion. Also, the women of the Vrill Society in the early to mid 1900s supposedly channeled beings from there.

Regarding secret societies...It's fairly easy to see who is in charge of which secret society. If there is any kind of enlightenment and spiritual growth involved in it, it is En.ki's society. If the rituals and teachings are dark and degrading, without any particular spiritual growth involved, it's Marduk's group. As we pointed out in Video 100 about En.ki and enlightenment, he wants us to grow, while Marduk doesn't. Examples of En.ki's secret societies are Freemasonry, the Rosicrucian Order, Theosophy, Rudolph Steiner's Anthroposophical Society, the Golden Dawn, Druidism, and the Bavarian Illuminati in the 1700s. Examples of Marduk's societies would be the Church of Satan (and Satanism in general), Church of Set, and the Black Order (3rd Reich). As we can see, the way to understand whether an agenda is orchestrated by En.ki or Marduk, we need to look at their objectives and the consequences. Is enlightenment and spiritual growth involved, or not? These are the main guidelines in order to distinguish. It would be too much to go into the 3rd Reich in this video, but the Nazis were Marduk's pawns.

QUESTION 4: In the Wes Penre papers, there was a (physical?) fight between Enki and Ninurta that ended with the castration of Enki, and he used his son Marduk to continue the line of hybrid human. I never understood; the castration is just for his body at this moment. Why doesn't he just change bodies or clone his body to full capability or regenerate his penis (in Anton Parks' books, Enki, who has no sex to begin with, has a penis transplanted by a surgical operation-

-they have the technology to do that)? I don't understand, am I missing something?

ANSWER: Yes, the fight was a physical fight (but in a slightly higher different density). Ninurta did more than castrating him—he also put a “spell” on En.ki, meaning he manipulated En.ki's capability to copulate with a human body. Therefore, it doesn't matter which body En.ki produces—he'll be incapable to have sex again. An analogy would be to compare it to a human male; if there is a psychological barrier in the person's mind, or something is going on with him in the astral, he might not be able to have sex, even when his physical body seems to be healthy.

QUESTION 5: When seeing the white light after death or near death, there is an overwhelming feeling of love/ecstasy/nirvana, whatever you may call it to lure us to be recycled. Beyond the grid, out among the real universe, does this feeling of love/ecstasy/nirvana exist for us or is it neutral?

ANSWER: Nothing is original here. EVERYTHING that exists here also exists beyond here. “There is nothing new under the sun” can be said for our reality here, which is really just a copy of what originally exists. This feeling of love/ecstasy/nirvana is OUR SOUL ENERGY!! This is why it feels so good to us and why we are attracted to it. It is what have been taken from us lifetime after lifetime and used to manipulate us. When we say that WE are keeping this recycle system alive, we really mean it. They are using US to lure US back into reincarnations in many ways.

Since this love/ecstasy/nirvana exists within us and we exist within the Universe, then we can say with 100% certainty that the Universe is not neutral, if for no other reason than the fact that WE exist. If the rest of the Universe has no experience with the human state of being, they soon will. We are most definitely not neutral.

QUESTION 6: About the Queen, you know of Val Valerian and his Matrix books, and he writes about the queen. She's a danger, addicted to cloning and control. His portrait of the queen is very different (contradictory) to yours. What do you think? (I know he was an agent of CIA; maybe he make a good misinformation agent. He seems very cultivated and aware of the exopolitical and metaphysical situation.)

ANSWER: I was going to say that John Gray, aka Val Valerian, worked for the CIA, but you mentioned it already in your question. His Matrix Series (which I have read) is a mix of advanced metaphysics and disinformation. As you probably know, he is very anti-feminine and holds women in VERY low standard. He also writes that you need to become homosexual to exit the Matrix. And yes, he is portraying the Queen very negatively (She's female, you see). However, keeping in mind his view on the feminine in general should tell us something. He certainly had an agenda that was not in our best interest. Also, don't get tricked by how a person portrays himself or herself—some people are better actors than others. It's the information that's important.

QUESTION 7: One of the many reasons I began my spiritual path in the first place is to try and move out permanently of a city and state I have literally outgrown on so many levels now for the past 20 years--NEVER resonating with the people here (no matter how hard I have tried), and I still have countless unpleasant, negative, and painful experiences from time to time. I see so many other people moving on with their lives. Why can't I? Is the AIF messing with me for some reason? Yes, I have and still am trying to "get a life." The irony of it all, Wes, is people are moving here in droves, thinking this place is paradise. It's like people here are of the "Emperor's New Clothes" syndrome where nothing is ever bad here.

ANSWER: No, the AIF is not messing with you. They don't have to. You are messing with yourself, it seems. Everyone has unpleasant, negative, and painful experiences from time to time. If you've watched our previous videos, we talked about a state of being in which we feel that we are always lacking. Is this what you are feeling? If this is what you are focusing on, then this is what you will always notice. We suggest you try to shift your perspective and way of thinking, little by little, to notice the abundance in your life. "Stop and smell the roses" is a cliché for a reason. It's true. Try to put your focus on something you enjoy every day, no matter how small. This will begin a shift inside you. If you find yourself resisting this shift, then figure out what it is that you are holding on to. If you are holding on to this state of being which refuses to feel better, then there is something with this state of being that is, in a way, comforting to you. Maybe there is an underlying fear there that needs to be confronted. Maybe you have felt this way for so long, that you are afraid of change. There are many people who feel the same way you feel! We are not trying to assume what you are feeling, but rather just offer some ideas to ponder and hopefully, with a little self-attention and nurturing, you will find what it is you need to do and step out of it. One thing that stands out in your question is your focus on everyone and everything around you. Turn your focus inside and see what you find there. We suspect there are your answers. As for "trying to get a life" – you HAVE life. You don't have to TRY and get it. What does this "life" that you are trying to achieve look like for you? What do you want? Once you have determined that, make choices that will keep you on that path and moving toward what you want for yourself. We wish you the best!

QUESTION 8: I think that Urantia and Oahspe books may be interesting to analyze. What is the degree of truth in them? Who transmitted them and for what purpose?

ANSWER: Both these scriptures are based on En.ki's philosophy—in other words, they promote En.ki's agenda. However, there is some interesting information in them. I particularly like the Urantia Book's story about Lucifer's Rebellion (Urantia Book, Paper 53). It's the most accurate story about the Rebellion I've encountered so far. Both scriptures can be found for free online.

QUESTION 9: Wes and Ariel, what about our guides, since we all have 2 since birth, or is that story another lie? Is the artificial soul the one responsible for our karma? Why some of us keep on attracting the same kind of partners time after time. Can you make a video on these?

ANSWER: No, we don't believe it's a lie—so much information tells us that we DO have Spirit Guides. What most people refer to as Spirit Guides are most possibly selected discarnate who works for En.ki, somewhat helping us on our path toward enlightenment within the System. In many instances, they could also be “programs,” who are preset to do the job. Karma only exists within the Matrix, and it exists because the Overlords put it there. They inflict a “karmic debt” upon us between lives, via the “life review” session that souls go through before they are recycled. Then, the question is if we really ARE attracting the same partners over and over. However, we often do attract the same KIND of partners across different lifetimes because we have unfinished business—we failed to handle certain aspects of our relationships in previous life, so they keep on coming back.

QUESTION 10: We are already aware of a planetary grid surrounding the Earth, but you've mentioned the solar system being quarantined, and Saturn being somewhat of a base where high dimensional beings reside, yes? If this is so, is there another grid at the edge of the solar system and could these beings pose any threat to us at the moment of our departure?

ANSWER: There are actually two solar systems—one is located within the Matrix (the solar system we perceive), and one exists in the KHAA—the solar system we perceive is not real—it's a copy. We don't need to worry about any Grid at the edge of the solar system. Once we've passed the Earth Grid, we're free. There is no other grid we need to pass.

QUESTION 11: After several years of studying Quantum Physics and Esoteric Gnosis, I have come to the realization (100% Fact) that we indeed live inside the planet. Known as CET (concave earth theory), I call it Concave Cellular. Within this realm the stars and planets would be very close, not light years away. It seems TPTB have literally flipped everything, and history is truly his story. Have you ever thought about this concave scenario and how it would change your perspective on the Matrix Grid?

ANSWER: This is a theory that we are exploring right now. We will acknowledge that this is not an impossibility. We, like you, seem to find many conclusions that support this. We can't say with 100% certainty this is true. It is only a theory at this point, albeit a good one. It's a very interesting concept, and if we connect the dots from what we already know from the Wes Penre Papers (WPP) and extended research, the concave Earth makes a lot of sense (not to be confused with the Flat Earth Theory, though). This answer might take many listeners by surprise, but it does fit into the bigger picture.

QUESTION 12: Technology only exists in the 3D worlds, correct, in the 4%, and once you get in the KHAA that kind of thing doesn't exist—it's basically imagination so to speak, nothing material or solid (unless you wish to experience that again), basically just thought? And once you're in the KHAA, your thoughts are the only thing that matter, and we are free to "roam" about in all of Mother Creator's imagination, thoughts and ways of being. . . We're a constant stream of unending imagination?

ANSWER: The KHAA is the nano world, i.e. it's very small from our perspective. However, when we get out of this Matrix, we will not experience it as small—it will feel like "normal size." The human souls were born as Creator Gods by default, which makes us a little different from other star beings out there. We will most certainly operate in many different dimensions, in order to create. However, it is our understanding that we will still have 3D bodies in the KHAA, just like the rest of the star races—we will be assigned 3D bodies. Nonetheless, we will be able to nano travel with our fires to other dimensions and create whatever we want to create, and when we do so, we will not be doing it in our 3D bodies, which will stay stationary on/in the star/planet that we will call our home.
