

Video 109: Is the Event an Attempt to Manifest the Second Coming?

In a recent personal video we made for one of our patrons, we came across new information and insights into what some people are calling The Event. These new insights and the new information we came across seemed to help us dive deeper into understanding what is going on with this narrative, as well as bring some other things we have written about recently into a bigger picture that we can see more clearly. Often, when we write these articles, we think we have given all the information or drawn the complete picture, when we find out later there was much more. Sometimes information comes, and insights gained with little periods of rests in between before we find ourselves picking up where we left off and continuing deeper into the topic. We've learned to just go with the flow as it comes, and we will never say we are ever finished learning about all of this. The new information we gain doesn't discredit the previous articles. On the contrary, it often provides a more expanded perspective and a more detailed picture than we were ready for at the time. Such is the case for this new article.

If we ever publish articles or videos prematurely and find that we have been misleading with our information due to not having this complete picture, we will say so (as we have done in the past) and we will make a correction. As we are discovering more and more, we all have our own unique perspectives and experiences that form our own personal truth. We only offer these things from our perspective for you to consider. You are always free to have your own journey and discovery. We hope to inspire your own quest for knowledge and personal growth, and we are always learning from you just as you are learning from us.

With the progression of the zodiac into a new age, and the influx of galactic currents that occur during this, we are due for a changeover of the gods. The constellations in the zodiac represent periods of rule over humanity by the gods. It doesn't mean that we will get a new ruler, per say, but it does mean an opportunity for the gods to make a switch, if they can. This change will happen whether we like it or not.

We are experiencing this transition right now. In this current transition, we are literally existing with one age on top of another; the age of Pisces and the age of Aquarius. What does this mean?

We are experiencing a shift in realities. This shift is responsible for everything we see going on around us, from the geopolitical upheavals to the pains of the planet, as She is being impacted by the galactic currents and the gods fighting over who will rule Her inhabitants. This overlay of two different Ages is creating quite some confusion among those who are witnessing it; those humans who are awake and aware enough to observe changes taking place both on the planet and in themselves. It is as if humanity is caught in a flux of energy between these two paradigms.

Could this be the reason for the Mandela affect? If we are existing in our old reality at the same time while a new reality is literally on top of us, we would certainly experience a bleed-through of one into the other.

In the old age, the old matrix, we have those who experienced the way things "used" to be. In the new age, the new matrix, we have those who have only known those things as they are at the present moment. Both groups are entirely convinced that their current memories and understanding is the correct one.

Indeed, they are each correct! This is humanity existing within two densities of Earth at different frequencies at the same time. One group is merging or has already merged seamlessly with the new Age of Aquarius and having no awareness of a shift taking place. Others are taking a little bit longer to shift in frequency and may move back and forth between them. Some may never make the shift completely.

For those of us in this latter group, we are experiencing both realities, both Ages at the same time. We, Wes and Ariel, can certainly say we have had our own personal Mandela effect experiences. However, with some of the anomalies we clearly have memory of both old and new paradigms. A shift in timelines would explain the Mandela effect, but this does not completely explain the phenomenon of those of us who have memory of both, which can be very mind-bending.

We have been told that our reality is an illusion. We are simply living within an interactive program of dots and dashes, one's and zero's, that form our reality around us based on the collective belief that this is what we perceive. If this is true, let's look at P.M.H. Atwater's description of life from her research into the area of Near-Death Experiences after having three of them herself and publishing many books, articles, and videos on the subject.

"Using television as an analogy, the picture we enjoy seeing, the progression of a storyline with characters acting out a script, is but a trick of perception. What exists, what is really there, is quite literally one electron at a time (with black and white, and three at a time with color) fired from the back of the television tube to the screen to be illuminated once it hits the screen as a tiny dot. The continuous barrage of electrons-turned-into-dots creates the appearance of images, as scanning lines roll from top to bottom separating information coming in (new dots) from information fading out (old dots). You adjust the vertical hold on your set, not to remove strange bars appearing in the picture, but to place all screen activity within the range of your own perceptual preference. A television picture tube is nothing more than a "gun" that fires electrons at a screen. Your mind connects the electron dots into the picture images you think you see, while it totally ignores the true reality of what actually undergirds the operation. The way television operates, at least in our daily experience of it, is an illusion." – P.M.H. Atwater

Human experiences of life can be compared to watching a program on tv. You don't think about the mechanics behind the images, you are only interested in what is being shown on the screen. Your consciousness becomes focused on the story, your energy invested in the images. The nuts and bolts of the TV, and HOW this machine works, simply does not come into your consciousness while you're watching. A person who goes to the theater to watch a movie isn't focused on the projector above and behind him. No, his focus is on what is showing on the screen in front of him.

The old age, the old matrix, or the old reality can be seen as the TV.

Now, let's look at what the advancement of technology has done for our consciousness and the way it has been captured and entertained. Out with the old and in with the new.

If a TV or a film projector could be used to describe what was being used to manipulate humanity's perspective of reality, we could say the new way would be comparable to the D-wave quantum computer. Whatever it might be or however it might be done, it will be vastly superior to the mechanism in place now. The mechanism that has been in place for the last several thousand years is now worn out and obsolete. It's time for an upgrade.

The gods are well aware that it's time for the changing of the guards. We feel that this may have something to do with the current narratives of an Event happening and a proposed transition of humankind. Do you remember that we wrote about En.ki (Lucifer)'s investment in the consciousness evolvement of humans? We feel that this may be part of the process of this change.

Alice Bailey writes of the Age of Aquarius,

"The tests and difficulties and pains of this era are symptoms or indications of the 'entering into manifestation' of the new civilization and culture. They portend the birth of the new era for which the entire world waits."

Certainly, it sounds like what we see going on around us, doesn't it? Many people speak of the transition into the Age of Aquarius as the age of knowledge, the age of unity, the age of integration, where all is exposed, all is visible, and all is accepted both as a collective human group and as individuals. It is also known as the age of technology. We certainly would not disagree with that.

The decision seems to be up to us as to how we want to progress in this new age and we would agree with that, as well. Which path will we choose? After all, integration can mean personal integration and healing on a Spiritual level or it can also mean integration of humans with technology. Each of the descriptions of this Age can be seen from different perspectives. This brings us to our next level on this discussion.

We've said recently that there must be a battle going on between En.ki and Marduk for the control of humanity. The Age of Aquarius might make you think that this would be the time for En.ki's rule over humanity, since his son has had this position during the most recent age. However, that's not true. The Age of Pisces was intended to be En.ki's rule, as well, but that was taken over by Marduk.

All we know for sure is that the switching of the Ages means a switching of the control structure, and the gods battle to determine who will take over the reins. It is possible that Marduk will succeed in keeping hold of the leashes on humanity for another 2,000 years. What will happen if Marduk wins? We think we will see the completion of the Singularity.

The Singularity will be Marduk's contribution to the age of unlimited knowledge (neural network mind cloud), unity and integration (all people being made equal through political, technological, and societal changes) and nothing is hidden from humanity. In this period where privacy, individual sovereignty, and opinion are subjected to monitoring, conformity, and judgement, we can see this shift taking place right now where EVERYONE is said to be the same and we are all encouraged to change and adapt our perspective into this new ideology. Men and women are the same. All people should be educated equally according to national standards rather than aptitude and interests. Exposure of corrupt organizations and individuals within our governing bodies and ruling corporations are leveling the playing field so that everyone may stand on the same footing.

While this may sound like a wonderful direction for the world to move toward, be careful of such way-showers and peace-makers who promise and encourage this extreme leveling of the playing field. Humanity is not ready for this type of society until it becomes completely self-responsible and self-regulating. Humanity is not even close to this type of self-governing because humanity is still crying out for a government to control them. They are crying out for a new government and have overlooked the humanitarian solution that would benefit all – NO government. Until humanity is willing to take responsibility for itself, a new government of controllers is no better than the old one. To elect a government is to consent to being governed. If humanity insists on giving away their personal responsibility for others to make choices about their lives FOR them, then we get what we ask for.

Until we mature to the point of being able to control ourselves as individuals whose most genuine attitudes are to think and act for the benefit of ALL, we will still have to pay a price to live on this planet and the people collecting our payments are the people who control us. Humanity would have to come together in such a monumental task as to wake up and level-up in consciousness to the point that we would have to stop hurting each other in ALL ways, and due to the mind-virus that has infected our soul group, we suspect this would be impossible. We also suspect this is intentional by those whose minds we have been given. The AIF know our minds more than we do, and most of us are content to not change that.

While saying all of this, there seems to be a group of awakening human souls who are reclaiming their minds, their sovereignty, and their awareness of who they are and what they want. They are expanding in consciousness at an extremely rapid pace right now! Those who are awakened are becoming bigger and brighter in their knowledge of reality, what makes it, and how to control it. Those who are in this group are having a terrible time adjusting as the frequency of the planet is getting lower and lower, while their own frequencies are getting higher and higher. There is a tug-of-war going on and some of us are caught in the middle.

Some of us have been going through this shift in consciousness for many years now. It seems to be on a repeating cycle of ascension promises, New Earth is just around the corner, and a glorious new reality is knocking on the door...EVERY THREE YEARS. Think about this carefully. As far as we have traced it, it started in 2009 and has been on a repeating "loop" of ascension and Event propaganda every three years since. We had a galactic Superwave introduced in 2009 by Dr. Paul LaViolette. In 2012, we had the famous shift that was supposedly foretold by the Mayans. In 2015, we were introduced to the concept of a New Earth and a spiritual transition for humanity to 5D. Now, in 2018, we seem to have all of these narratives and a few more thrown in for good measure combined! What the heck is going on with this stuff? Why is humanity being fed the program of ascension, New Earth, spiritual transition, and even a Rapture? Why are the Christian and New Age religions suddenly co-mingling into Christ-consciousness, Archangels as Spirit Guides, Harvests, Rapture as Ascension to 5D, and Divine Feminine and Divine Masculine (Mother and Father/Goddess and God) suddenly willing and insisted upon to work together for the advancement of humanity's consciousness?

Consider this...

This is En.ki's side of the battle against taking back the reins of control over Earth and the human souls that populate it. En.ki needs to come back to fulfill the battle that was foretold in the book of Revelations where he will conquer his son and take control of the Earth for 1,000 years (or more). HE made that prophecy. This was HIS plan for defeating his son. He told it to humans, made them believe it as part of their religious lexicon, and in this way, he could count on them to make it manifest. Why does he need us to bring this prophecy into manifestation? Because he can't come on his own. He has no access into our Earth construct. When he left and Marduk was placed in charge, he wasn't allowed back in. Think of it as him being outside the house only being able to look in through the windows. He needs US to bring him back. He needs us to call upon him as our savior to return. He can't come in unless we open the door and invite him in. This is why he has continually sent his son, Thoth, to interact and give enlightenment to humanity on his behalf. It all depends on us and our relationship with him (the Father). He NEEDS us to focus on his prophecy and believe in it, and HIM, to the point that we create it, thus giving him an open invitation to carry out this timeline of events. This is the changing of the guards.

Humanity has become too distracted, however, to focus on these events. Humanity doesn't care about Revelations or what is told in this book. Those who do care are too few in number and focus to manifest it. Some of those powerful humans who are aware of their ability to create have trickled off into the New Age arena where they are finding other like-minded humans who are embracing these newly rediscovered truths about our Spiritual origins. This kind of knowledge has driven most of these enlightened and awakened humans from the church and their Biblical beliefs. What is En.ki to do? He is to infiltrate the New Age religion and gently direct those humans back into a collective consciousness powerful enough to play out his timeline of victory; he will give them a rapture, a concept of paradise or heaven on Earth, and tell them it is an ascension into a new dimension; a NEW EARTH. If we look at the comparisons of these two narratives, we can see they are too similar to discard as being the same story only told from a different perspective.

Ascension of humanity is En.ki's plan and it will lead to him taking back control of the human soul group.

En.ki needs humanity to shift in consciousness in order to do this or else we are too entangled into Marduk's Singularity and humanity will be forever lost.

Humanity is caught between a rock and a hard place unless we mature to the point of recognizing we do not need saviors to get us out of here. Do you see how this way of thinking has been manipulating humanity in preparation to call upon a savior for thousands of years? We, our human avatar, is even constructed with built-in programs (that are nearly impossible to break!) that compel us to search for God and align with these savior narratives that we are given.

With Marduk ruling in the Age of Aquarius on one side with the Singularity, and En.ki on the other side, if he should win the battle, what do you think we should do? Ultimately, it seems to be up to US as to who we want to be in charge. Neither one can take control of humanity unless we give it to them. However, when we consent to being led in any direction, we give up our ability to agree with where we are going. For now, we suggest keeping a position of observation, non-reactivity, and awareness without becoming emotionally attached to either side. This seems like the best path.
