Video 124: We are Looking for a Graphic Designer!
Written by Wes Penre, Feb. 19, 2019

This is a transcript to video:
https://youtu.be/Kp5ymp1hQkQ

Hello, Wes Penre here! We have an urgent request! Ariel and I are going to make the most important video project we have made up to date, in our opinion, and we really want our viewers to understand the concepts we will be sharing.

We have come to a point in our research, when it's sometimes become extremely difficult to express the concept in words only. At this moment, we need someone who is willing to help us putting graphics to this concept. We believe that graphics, or even better; animated graphics, in combination with words, can help explain more thoroughly what we are about to convey.

If you, who listen to this, is a graphic designer, or know someone who is a graphic designer, and who's willing to do this for us, please contact us at wespenreproductions@gmail.com as soon as possible.

We intend to use these designs in a series of videos. We will of course give credit to each designer's work that we use in the videos, according to their preference. We are open to using more than one designer.

This will be a work out of dedication—a contribution to our research. We are unfortunately not able to pay the graphic designer for the job.

We are forever grateful to anyone who is willing to assist us with this.

Thanks for your interest in our work! It's highly appreciated!

Talk to you soon!

Bye for now.