Hello, this is Wes Penre. Right now, we're working with graphic designers to help us with the upcoming video series, and that might take a little while. It's well worth it, though. We need the graphics to illustrate our concepts. In the meantime, we'll do another Q&A session, which is also very interesting and fun, in our opinion, so here we go:

QUESTION #1: The Dark Star Sirius C has cosmic history that goes back millions of years. Is it possible that even today, souls from this prison planet are being born into the Global Elite or baby hybrid bodies here on Earth and on Mars?

ANSWER: Yes, it's possible but very rare, from what we've learned. The Alien Invader Force (AIF) do incarnate here at times in human baby bodies. Most of the Global Elite are human souls, who were selected a long time ago to reincarnate within the same bloodlines over and over. George Bush Sr. died recently, and he's pretty much guaranteed to reincarnate within the same Illuminati bloodlines again and again. Normally, the Sirians and others prefer to pull the strings from the metaphysical realm, not to interfere too much with freewill. One of En.ki's clan is incarnated on Earth right now, as we've concluded, and that is James Mahu of the WingMakers. We don't think they are incarnating on Mars, though.

QUESTION #2: I understand that Solfeggio frequencies and the Fibonacci sequences are constructs of this matrix. Is there any benefit in using them whist we are trapped here? By using them, is there a chance that they could be beneficial whilst we are here?

ANSWER: Because the physical part of us are also of the Matrix, we can benefit from sonic/audio therapy. Our soul-fires are embedded in the physical cells, so if the body reacts, so do does the soul, if we look at it that way. We have not looked into the matter deeply enough, though, to suggest what frequencies are best to use.

QUESTION #3: Are all major celebrities MK Ultra mind control victims, clones, androids, or a combination of all three? Can they escape the matrix if they desire, or is their fate already sealed for “selling their soul” to Hollywood, the music industry, etc.?

ANSWER: We don't know if ALL of them are what you describe, but the majority is. Anyone who's a souled being has an opportunity to leave, but those who “sold their soul” have written a contract with the Devil/Marduk, where he gives them fame and fortune in THIS life. After death, according to the contract, they have signed over their soul to Marduk, who can use them for whatever purpose because they gave their consent. They can still break the contract and leave, but how many of them even know that they can? How many of them knows about the Grid? What kind of baggage would they bring with them out in the KHAA, IF they would exit? Not a situation we would like to be in.

QUESTION #4: I saw an excellent video from the YouTube channel Ankaraman, where he compared our Higher Self to being the remote controller and we were the drones from which the Higher Self controls and operates. The problem I have with this is a drone does not have "free will." The drone does exactly what it is commanded to do, nothing more. Could you give us some other more accurate examples/analogies of the Higher Self being out in the KHAA and how it relates to us being in the Matrix?

ANSWER: We all connect to the same Source, but we all have individual connections to that source. That individual connection is what connects you to Higher Self. Your connection and guidance from Higher Self will be different than mine because we are individuals. However, we are tapping into the same source of consciousness for that information. The information we get may be different, however, as it pertains to the individual.

Here is how we presented it in a previous video:

Think of the Divine Feminine as a body

That body has arms and legs extending from it

One of these arms would be the Queen of Orion as direct extension of the DF

The hand at the end of that arm would be Higher Self

Each finger on that hand would be individual units of consciousness – us.

If you place a tourniquet at the elbow, everything below it gets cut off from the rest of the body. This is the state that we are in right now. By waking up, we loosen the tourniquet, allowing Higher Self to reconnect with the KHAA (DF) and therefore allowing more information to flow back and forth. Some people's tourniquet is already loose, for one reason or another, when they incarnate here. For some, it's tied so tightly that no access to the KHAA is getting through and Higher Self is strangled by loss of circulation. We hope that helps.

The analogy you're mentioning is a quite good one, though, with the "remote controller" being our Higher Self—the Spirit (vs. us, who are the souls). It's equivalent to Dr. Tom Campbell's analogy. If the Queen is our true Spirit, She split Herself into us and gave us freewill. This means, each of us acts as individuals with our own experiences, capable and allowed to make freewill choices, inserted into a vehicle/vessel, which is our body. It's similar to a video game, where you, the player, are the Spirit/Oversoul/Higher Self, and the avatar in the game is the video character. The difference is that the player of the video game needs to push the keyboard keys, etc. for the avatar to move, while in this Matrix, the avatar has freewill to do whatever he/she wants.

QUESTION #5: How do you remain so confident that everyone who has read your work will make it out into the KHAA and not get trapped either in Enki's false heaven or Marduk's singularity? The AIF always appear to be one step ahead of us. Even with all the knowledge we have, isn't there a chance something could prevent us from leaving, whether it be due to fear, attachments, or uncertainty?

ANSWER: We are not confident that everyone will make it out. Everyone has the OPPORTUNITY to get themselves out, but each person has to do what is necessary to leave, and we can't say whether someone will be successful or not. Yes, there is always a chance that someone might be misled or convinced to stay. Certainly, all the things you have mentioned are examples of ways someone might fail. This is why we have mentioned the importance of working on clearing all these things now before you attempt to make your exit. All we can do is ensure everyone has access to the information they need. What they do with that information and the decisions they make are ultimately up to them.

If we look at the situation humankind is in from an objective view, we have always been allowed to leave. There haven't been any holes in the Grid until recently, but even before that, there were other exits. However, they were, and are guarded. According to the Emerald Tablets of Thoth, they will let you out if you can answer their questions. That is a game to trick souls. The soul then starts playing the game and loses, of course. Can we choose not to play, and they'll let us out? Unless there are other soul contracts, unbeknownst to us, they would have to, but these gods are tricksters, so who knows what chances we stand against them? This is why it's crucial not to talk to anyone but immediately go for the Grid. Will they guard the Grid? From what I have been told by anonymous sources—no.

QUESTION #6: I am confused. I thought there was only one outcome of staying in the Matrix, i.e. Singularity for everyone, ruled by Marduk. In the last Q&A, you mentioned people with higher vibration would be in hEAven - ruled by En.ki.

How would the 2 groups be separated? hEAven doesn't seem like such a bad place if En.ki encourages positive energy and higher vibrations?

ANSWER: En.ki is definitely the less evil of the two, but those who go to him will remain in the Matrix, unless En.ki has completely changed his mindset. We would live in a better environment than we do now—a New Atlantis. Atlantis started out as a very decent place, with En.ki ruling as Neptune/Poseidon, but we all know what that era ended, right? It all declined and ended with the Flood. Then Marduk took over again. The change-overs from Marduk's Hell (our current existence) and EA's hEAven happen in cycles—it has to do with who is in charge of certain Zodiac signs. En.ki is now preparing to establish the New Atlantis, according to Prophecy and the research we've done. Even IF it shows that En.ki has repented and is helping the Queen to get us out of here, would we really want to take the chance, rather than just exiting on our own?

Many people wouldn't mind having En.ki as their Lord and King. We suspect you would not be alone in your decision. Humanity would be split according to their level of consciousness, basically.

QUESTION #7: Some people say that the Overlords are in close contact with political and religious leaders and certain influential people on Earth, in order to implement the plans (Luciferian agenda) of the Overlords. What is your opinion regarding this, and do you care to comment? I hear the Vatican is heavily involved.

ANSWER: The Overlords have a hierarchy set up here on Earth. They are rarely personally involved with any of the above mentioned, but they run the show through human minions, such as politicians, religious leaders, etc. What we are doing to each other here on Earth, we're doing to ourselves. Humans abuse humans, while being manipulated from other densities by the Overlords. The Vatican is the leading religious center on Earth. They are basically En.ki's/Lucifer's emissaries on Earth, but this seems to have switched back and forth over the centuries. Sometimes Marduk has been in charge of the church, and other times it's En.ki. Now, it's En.ki. In the Dark Ages it was Marduk/Satan.

QUESTION #8: Even before I came across your work, I have resolved myself to exit this matrix. Once you awaken from this drama, it seems like the only thing left to do. Since leaving the matrix is only possible when we make our transition from the physical body, I am wondering - What is your point of view on the best way to live out the rest of this life? Should our goal be to help alleviate the suffering of others? What are ways we can feel satisfied and contented while at the same time disengage from the drama. It seems that the more I disengage, the more intense situations around me become.

ANSWER: The most important thing is to work on ourselves to learn, improve, and experience. That will gain us in the KHAA. We would say “follow your passion.” That’s the absolute best you can do. We all have at least one passion. It’s just a matter of finding it and start working on it. Figure out what YOU in particular want to do and do it. If you follow your passion with integrity, you CAN’T lose. It’s in your passion your strength lies.

Learn to live peacefully within the system while using the system to create what will benefit you the most.

QUESTION #9: You have said that we cannot communicate with others outside of the matrix. However, if we have free will of choice here, why can't we choose to communicate with beings outside of this reality? It seems that they should be able to communicate with us if we invite them to do so. Is this matrix really that powerful that we can't use our intention to change the way it operates? It seems we should be able to call in outside support if we want to. Isn't this just a grand illusion -in part of our own making?

ANSWER: Beings outside this Matrix are instructed to leave this Experiment alone. The Experiment is still going on, and it’s an experiment in freewill. In our new video series, we will further nail it down as of why we can’t be saved by saviors. Technically, we can communicate with those outside the Matrix—at least now when the Grid is damaged—but star beings out there know the rules and why they can’t interfere. Interference might also theoretically make things worse. If you affect one human with communication, it affects others because we are of a common mass consciousness. It could have effects that are not desirable. Even more so, if star beings from outside decide to communicate with several humans.

But yes, you can try—we don't know for sure where the situation stands today. However, be cautious and learn the difference between genuine help and someone disguised as help. Not everyone who will answer your call is who you intended, and there are some tricky characters playing around here. They will certainly be listening in on and might intercept your call. Learn how to distinguish who and what you can trust.

QUESTION #10: Currently, there are approximately eight billion humans alive on planet Earth—double the population of say a hundred years ago—and definitely more humans alive than in any previous historical period. Where are the overlords getting all of these (seemingly new) souls to place within human bodies? Are they able to duplicate previously existing soul splinter fires?

ANSWER: Not all souls within this Matrix reincarnates all the time. Who knows how many souls/humans there were on the planet just before the Flood? 8 billion? We don't know, but it's possible. Then, the Flood wiped everything out, and humanity had to start all over again. Souls are held in holding stations, until the Overlords are ready to use them again. Once incarnated, you continue incarnate over and over, but when the bodies increase in numbers, they use the souls from the holding stations, until it fills up. Also, not all souls here are Namlu'u souls (human souls). As conveyed in the Wes Penre Papers, the AIF also sucked in souls from outside to use within the System. Last, not all humans are souled. There are more non-souled humans than we might imagine (see our previous videos on this subject). Yes, they are able to fashion a "type" of soul from the remnants of our own soul fires to animate a physical body, from what we understand. Other beings from the KHAA that get too close to our matrix also get sucked in and trapped.

QUESTION #11: Because we are soul fire splinters of our Divine Mother, even though we are trapped within the matrix, is She aware of us individually when we hold Her in thought, especially as we wake up to the overlords and their deception? Also, if Divine Mother was to end the experiment here, would She retrieve those of us who are intending to leave the matrix, and would we retain our individuality?

ANSWER: The Queen is not in energetic exchange with humanity because we have isolated ourselves here. Almost no humans even know the Queen exists. If they connect with the “Divine,” it’s either with En.ki or Marduk. We have lost our soul connection with the Queen when it comes to communication. Not until recently, when the truth is spreading and becomes known again can we connect with our Oversoul—the Queen.

Once we leave the Matrix, we can decide ourselves what we want to do. If we go to where the Queen resides, She will welcome us and help us getting used to our new existence. And yes, we’ll bring our experiences in this Matrix with us—our accumulated experiences IS our individuality.
