Video 47: Why doesn't Orion come to our Rescue? (Transcript) Written by Wes Penre, July 18, 2018

Many people have asked us why the Queen and the Orions are not coming to rescue us from this trap—particularly as the Experiment seems to go towards complete failure. Why does the Queen of the Stars—our Mother—let us suffer so much? Isn't She liable as well for letting it go on?

***

These are a few of the questions we've got, and they are all excellent and logical questions after having taken part of the Wes Penre Papers (WPP) and our videos. However, the reasons why the Queen and her MIKH-MAKH armada don't show up, or why She doesn't take out the Overlords in battle, are many-fold. It's not as easy as it might seem, but let us address a few rescue scenarios one by one, and let us show you why they wouldn't work.

***

SCENARIO ONE: TAKING EARTH BACK BY FORCE. Although there was a battle in the solar system in 2008-2009 between what seems to have been Orion forces and the AIF, this battle was not about liberating us. From what I understand, Orion had observers in the vicinity, and what probably happened was that they were detected, and a battle took place within the solar system, leading to more holes in the Grid. It could also have been a battle between opposing forces within the AIF, but regardless, the outcome was a more damaged Grid. Since then, the Overlords have had a more difficult time recycling souls, from what we've learned.

***

Nevertheless, if an Orion MIKH-MAKH armada would invade, in order to liberate us, a cosmic war would obviously break out, and destruction would be inevitable. The Overlords would use humanity as their hostages and as shields, and before the AIF would be defeated, so would probably the human soul group; not by the Orions, but by their opponents. The Overlords would, as any narc or psychopath would, succumb as destructively as possible, and the chances are great that they would terminate us in the process.

***

SCENARIO TWO: ORION IS SENDING A RESCUE MISSION TO EXTRACT US FROM THE MATRIX. This is a similar scenario, except that Orion would now come in peace, land here, explain the situation, and save us. First, this scenario is not plausible for several reasons, and the following would be the main ones:

***

The Orions would not be able to just show up in peace, without being attacked by En.ki's DAKH forces, and a destructive war would break out, similar to what would happen in Scenario One. But let's pretend that Orion WOULD be able to show themselves to us, without any direct confrontations with the DAKH forces. En.ki has Minions here, i.e. the Global Elite and THEIR minions, the Presidents, Kings, Emperors, and Dictators, etc., who are the rulers of our countries. The world leaders have often promoted a One World Government, and Ronald Reagan and Mikhail Gorbachev prepared us for an alien invasion already in the 1980s. If the Orions would come, humanity would be deceived by their world leaders, who would have mass media broadcast that we are being invaded, and that now is the time to get together as ONE people, forget our indifferences, and fight this invader force from outer space in a joint effort—humanity against the evil space invaders.

***

It doesn't take much imagination to realize what would happen—humanity, in their ignorance, would start fighting against their liberators, and instead of killing and terminating humanity, the Orions would be forced to leave, so humanity wouldn't be terminated in the process.

The consequence of such an encounter would be a great victory for the AIF and the Elite because finally they have their One World Government. Moreover, they would praise the world population for being able to scare away an alien force. Possibly, news stations all over the planet would then announce that the invaders came from Orion, and from thereon, Orion would be our enemy. This would help the Overlords tremendously for the future because their plan is to invade Orion and use us humans as their foot soldiers, riding our avatars out of their own trap and into the KHAA. Thus, the consequences of such a rescue mission from Orion would be catastrophic.

***

SCENARIO THREE: THE LAW OF FREE WILL. This is the most important thing to bring up in this video. This time, let's pretend that the Orions would be able to come here and pick up the entire human soul group and take us all to Orion, without being stopped by the AIF. This would imply that they would interfere with our own freewill. Has anybody ever asked humanity what WE want? Has anyone done a worldwide survey, asking us if we want to be picked up by an alien rescue mission, leave Earth for good, and go to Orion? Of course not! But let's say that CNN did this exact thing tomorrow, but without giving any background information to our situation. How would this human soul group respond? I can bet on that the absolute majority of humanity would say, "absolutely not!" They would think it would be ridiculous, and if it happened, they would fight against it for their lives; and even if CNN gave the background information, most people would STILL want to stay, based on their current ignorance and non-confront in such a situation. If Orion, in spite of this, would rescue humanity, they would go against the Law of Free Will, which is one of the most important laws of this Universe. Therefore, as things stand today, this scenario is not an option, either.

Once we think through this, we can see that this is not an easy situation, having a completely ignorant population to deal with—a population who thinks that even if things are certainly not perfect in this world, it's still the reality they are used to, and any of the scenarios presented here would inflict on this soul group's freewill. Fear of change and fear of the unknown would stop people from even considering this. Regardless of the hardships they go through every day, humanity considers this planet being their home, and the rest is either space opera or an unacceptable intrusion.

If we want to ponder this further, with all the above in mind, we might also understand why the Queen is having a dilemma; should She terminate the Experiment, or should She let things go on? If the human soul group in general wants to continue with their lives without interference, termination could also be considered a breech in freewill. The only thing that would NOT be a violation of this law is to let humanity make their own decisions and make their own choice, i.e. continue executing their freewill. We are the ones who have to decide—on an individual basis and/or as a soul group—what we want to do, and in the light of this day, it looks like humanity is siding with being trapped and to do the betting of the Overlords. If this is what humanity wants, this is what we will get. Therefore, a termination of the entire Experiment might be the absolute last option—if even that. The Queen MIGHT let humanity play it out for themselves—even though this means She will lose humanity, and consequently, a lot of Her own soul energy, because we are Her soul splinters.

***

We hope this will shed some new light on this subject.
