Thank you for all the questions that have poured in since yesterday. In fact, we received more questions than we can cover in one video, so don't be disappointed if your own question or questions are not answered here. Our intention is to make more Q&A videos on an ongoing basis. Therefore, please continue to email us questions whenever you think of any and send them to wespenreproductions@gmail.com. Don't forget to put "Q&A" in the subject line, or chances will be great that we'll miss them.

Some questions we got are quite long, so we have taken the liberty to shorten them for this video, hopefully without changing the context of the original inquiry.

Now, let's get to the questions and answers:

QUESTION: If the harvest is coming in the near future, can you clarify what you believe we can do? Or which choices we're able to have in the matter?

ANSWER: Whether there will actually be a Harvest or not remains to be seen, but if it happens, it depends on how it happens. It's important for all of us who are more aware to keep ourselves updated on this subject, so we can get the best possible grasp of the Overlords' plans. From our viewpoint, we refuse to go. If there will be some kind of mass transition that will kick us out of our bodies, we would look for the Grid and do what we can to break loose. If that fails, and we stand before our "saviors," we'll demand that they let us leave and that it's out free will to do so. Because we don't know HOW this potential Harvest might happen, we need to play it by ear to some degree. Also, we must be DETERMINED that we WANT to exit. If we have any doubts, thinking that a Harvest might be good, after all, it's not going to work. However, when it comes to a "positive" Event, there is no ascension or harvest event, per say. The "Harvest" is happening on a continual basis as we grow. The idea to get humanity to focus on a future time is a distraction from what is happening in the current NOW moment, where our real focus should be.

QUESTION: Upon bodily death and outside the grid, where do you think some interesting places to explore might be?

ANSWER: First, some advice regarding visiting our solar system: We would personally not do that because it's still within Quarantine, and you would need to lower your vibration again to be able to visit Saturn and the Moon within the Matrix. The chances of being manipulated is much greater if you stay within the Matrix. We will just leave our solar system behind without looking back. It can be fun to just explore to begin with. Nothing wrong with that. The way we feel right now is to go to the Orion Court first, "knocking on the door" (remember that Earth is already IN Orion, so when we exit we ARE in Orion. Ariel and I feel that we want a briefing first and perhaps learn a thing or two about our position. But everybody has their preference, of course, and it's fine to go wherever you feel like.

QUESTION: Are there any practices you can suggest that I can use to open my intuition to see/feel answers for myself?

ANSWERS: Deep meditation is a great tool to practice—it's a good idea that we do our best to clear our minds as much as possible from the mind-chatter we all have. Then, keep on learning and listening to what you Inner Self and your body feel about what you're learning. Does it resonate? Do you get a "good feeling" about what you're learning, even if it's not always "positive" info? "Negative" info can also make us get a good feeling when the info resonates. See how the puzzle pieces you gather fit together. Also, I wrote a free e-book called, "Beyond 2012..." that can be found at wespenre.com under "Wes Penre E-Books." It has a lot of good practices in there.

QUESTION: Is there a military frequency weapon that is making us apathetic to what is going on? I do feel that there is a depopulation agenda, but I don't feel worried about it. Should I feel worried because my not worrying about is being manipulated by frequency warfare?

ANSWER: Yes, there are certainly such low frequency weapon that can make us feel apathetic and non-caring about what is happening in higher frequencies, but they are just other tools to keep us from expanding our consciousness—ELF and Wi-Fi are two of them. It's a matter of vibrating higher than those frequencies in general, which we who are here ARE doing, or we wouldn't still be on this path. The masses are not. Don't worry about that you don't feel worried about it. Connect with likeminded, just like you're doing, and continue with your path. So long as you're on your way, you'll be fine. However, people are apathetic for many reasons that have nothing to do with frequency weapons.

QUESTION: I can see a progression of seeing through political agendas and a shift of my focus to different things. Are we as a population going higher spiritually? As a group? Is that changing future outcomes?

ANSWER: No, we are not going higher overall, and future outcomes on a grander scale are not going to change. We believe there is a bigger gap now between those who are awake and those who are not. Yes, people are waking up every day, but many people are also falling deeper into the pit through technology, social brainwashing, and social media. It looks like people are waking up, but not fast enough. Those who are going in the opposite direction are far more. To a certain degree, our own awakening helps waken other people up, but it's not enough. Also, those of us that are managing to get higher are still being led astray into many, many different directions with very few of us managing to come together and work together. If we could come together, we would succeed at better raising the frequency of the collective, but this is going to be very, very difficult at this point. We can now only do the best that we can on a personal level and with those in our immediate environment, or like we are doing, by trying to use our creativity and intentions to reach as many people as possible. That's really all we can do. We just need to try to make the best of our situation while we are still here, and then focus on leaving when our time has come. We can no longer see an option to exit as a soul group. We must do it now as individuals.

QUESTION: Do movies and media use our imagination to manifest things? If the population is going spiritually higher, does that change what happens; meaning, if we as a population proclaim we don't want something, does that mean the 'controllers' will be unable to implement it?

ANSWER: Yes, movies make us use our imagination to help manifest things the Overlords want us to manifest. They show the truth in plain sight regarding their plans, but it's a double-edged sword. Like you said, it also helps THEM having us manifest what THEY want to manifest. No, we cannot prevent the controllers from doing what they want to do. The controllers (AIF) are superior here. We are, in no way, a match to neither their technology nor their intelligence. We can only prevent them from taking control of our Spirit and our own growth and expansion. There's where our strengths are.

QUESTION: Can a decision on my part be enough to avoid a certain fate? Deciding 'no, I don't want to experience that' in my heart, can that be enough to avoid that experience?

ANSWER: That would be a very important step. Also, you would need to make CHOICES out of freewill, based on your conviction, so you can avoid a certain outcome.

QUESTION: Are there NCPs? Or is it that certain people are just tuned into the matrix soul overlay you referred to, that is covering our real soul? How do we get to the authentic soul and communicate with it?

ANSWER: Yes, there are NPCs (non-playable characters). Yes, they are the ones who only have an artificial soul. There is no authentic soul in these beings at all—it's missing. No spirit, no "real" soul. So, it's impossible to communicate with them in that sense. They do have residue of authentic soul-fire and Spirit when they are born because people with authentic souls have "ignited" the artificial soul in previous lives, but that energy will fade within the artificial soul. Therefore, these NCPs must constantly feed from souled beings like ourselves in order to keep themselves and their bodies alive. You will connect with your authentic soul by relearning about yourself and our collective situation. For every truth you'll learn, the weaker the artificial soul will become—you create "holes" in it. If you think about it, you know when you are operating as yourself and when you operate in a stimulus-response manner. We must learn to use our emotions consciously and ACT while using them in our favor instead of RE-act, which we do when the artificial soul is in charge.

QUESTION: How do we find our true place in this world?

ANSWER: Follow your passion. Find out what you're good at and what you really enjoy. If you follow your passion, you can't go wrong. This is exactly what Ariel and I are doing now. We want to do what we love to do fulltime (learning and sharing with others) what we both have a passion for. Start working on your passion, even if it's just half an hour a day, and things will start adjusting itself in line with your passion. Listen to your heart. Know yourself. You know what you need to do. Listen to your Higher Self, even if it is giving you answers you think are difficult or hard. It's in the hard things that we develop our strength.

We're going to stop here for now. We have received more questions that won't fit in this first video, and we want to keep the videos at a reasonable length. But like we said earlier, please continue sending us questions, so we have more to work on for future videos. Hope this first Q&A has been helpful. Feel free to comment in the comment section below.
