Welcome to another Q&A Session! Thank you for sending us questions, and please continue doing so. Send them to wespenreproductions@gmail.com and put “Q&A” in the subject line, so we don’t miss your email. If your questions are not included in the two upcoming Q&A videos, after you’ve submitted them, it could be because we’ve answered them before, or we simply don’t know the answers. It’s okay, of course, to make an inquiry, and we’ll let you know why your question was not submitted.

We’ve taken the liberty to sometimes shorten the questions and/or corrected some grammar for easier read. The context is never compromised, however.

QUESTION 1: I have a question regarding the safety of sharing this kind of information...How can someone be sure of the safety of knowing this information and not fear of being targeted and "silenced" by the "dark forces" for exposing such volatile information? Is it because it can be considered too fantastic information to be accepted by the general population and/or its reach is so insignificant for "them" to even bother? Also, what you would advise in regards of safety of sharing information like this? (go on private groups, divulge it in limited doses, keeping for oneself and then keeping the mouth shut, etc.)

ANSWER: You have answered the question. It is both too fantastic for people to believe and our knowledge of these things is insignificant to them. The alternative history community, to which we belong, actually benefits them in allowing for false information to be spread on such exciting projects such as Ancient Aliens on the History channel or other history's mysteries type of programming. Talking about the unknown or the unexplained is nothing new and nothing to be afraid of. People have been fascinated by these stories and myths as long as we have been alive. None of these things are provable, and so there is no worry of being attacked or targeted for our information. How you handle the information and your own changing belief systems in your life and with the people around you are up to you. You need to do what is right for you.

Also, we do have freewill of choice, and if we are determined to go through the Grid, it's our choice. No one is forcing us to reincarnate or "ascend" within the Patrix system. At one point, as we mentioned above and in the previous video, we are, according to Robert Monroe, given a choice whether we want to advance as a non-physical being within the Construct, or if we want to continue reincarnate. Of course, they won't tell us about the Grid. One thing they often do is to let disinformation agents and trolls try to discredit true info, and sometimes people, for personal reasons, start witch-hunts on truth-seekers, without being part of Intelligence Agencies. The latter can often be easily spotted by checking out what they have to say—their arguments often fall flat.

QUESTION 2: When you talk about trapped star races like us, how many are them [and how many are us]? You make it look like they were very few. I know it's not a number, but [in a big universe], you make it look like there were few, but at the same time you make it look the Luciferian domain so big. That's what I see contradictory.

ANSWER: We don't have any numbers, but we think the star races that have been trapped here are quite few, relatively speaking. However, many people on this planet seem to be spiritless—it even appears that these might be the majority. The Universe is unimaginably huge, and the 4% we see in telescopes, etc., is just a tiny spectrum of it. So, there are more star races out there than we can fathom. Thus, the Luciferian domain is tiny in comparison.

QUESTION 3: Do malicious spirits or the Overlords suck on people's spiritual energies when they meditate or feel blissful in places like spiritual retreats?

ANSWER: No, not necessarily. Lower frequency parasites feed from lower frequency energy, such as fear. There are other types who feed on the higher vibrational energies such as glory and praise. As long as you are keeping that energy within you for your own benefit and not directing it "out" to an external source, it's perfectly fine and can be very beneficial.

QUESTION 4: You mentioned that Thoth is always reincarnating as a significant figure in history. I'm wondering, how can you be sure it is always Thoth? Also, in terms of the AIF, is it a force just governed by Enki, Thoth and [Marduk] (a father and 2 sons). Are there no other significant players?

ANSWER: We can't guarantee that it's ALWAYS Thoth, but the most significant non-humans, who have created civilizations and helped making major changes on the planet, can evidently be traced to Thoth. To make that connection, we need to read the ancient texts, such as "The Emerald Tablets of Thoth," the Sumerian texts, the Vedas, the history of the Mayans and the Aztecs, and so on. It soon becomes clear who is who. By also applying syncretism, we can fairly easily connect the dots (see our video series about Thoth, for those who haven't). The top players of the Alien Invader Force (AIF) seem to be En.ki, Marduk, Isis/Inanna, and Ereshkigal. However, recently we've presented a new hypothesis that the top players are only two in number; En.ki and Isis. Thoth and Marduk appear to just be soul aspects of En.ki, probed to maintain equilibrium of duality and polarity. Also, Isis is, as far as we know, still in hiding and is not currently participating in the Agenda (see the Wes Penre Papers).

QUESTION 5: What's the difference in our awareness during a dream and the moments we die? In dreams I do not have any control over what is happening to me and even more; I am not aware that I dream. So why would it be different in us having full control over what is happening when we are dying when I can't even manage my silly dreams consciously?

ANSWER: The reason we must sleep is so we can recharge our batteries—quite literally. We function as batteries for the Overlords/AIF. The body rejuvenates during sleep and redressed and processes past trauma and present concerns in daily waking life.

Immediately after you die, you might feel like you are in a dream. You may be confused and not realizing you have died. Apparently, this is common according to many near death experience accounts. Just like a dream feels very real when we are experiencing it, the afterlife will feel as real as your physical life. There will be indicators that will let you know, however, and we have mentioned some of them. Spirit guides will show up, or deceased loved ones, and the presence of some type of light or tunnel of light in the “distance” and encouragement or a magnetic pull towards this light. At some point, people also mention seeing their physical body lying in the place they have died. This is usually when the first realization happens to let you know you have died. You are now unattached to your physical body and you can observe it from an external position. To better prepare for what you might experience in the afterlife, perhaps researching this topic might help you to have more confidence in your ability to quickly realize you are in the afterlife realm.

QUESTION 6: Lately, I have been experiencing what I call "chills of truth" on more occasions. Much of my life, I occasionally get chills when someone states something I know to be "true". Recently, I am also getting these chills viewing musical films about my generation, Rocket man and Yesterday...with the advent of more "chills of truth" I question - am I simply growing, or should I consider "chills of truth" may be something more?

ANSWER: From own experiences, we can confirm that we can get “chills” when we encounter something that is true or when we expose a lie that we have bought, and we can see the truth behind it. We can also get chills from music or movies that resonate with us, and that’s the key—it resonates. In other words, the chills you’re talking about usually happen, from our experience, when we encounter something that resonates with us, whether it is a spiritual truth, music, a movie, or something from a book.

Our soul is intimately connected to our nervous system, and just as a fright will cause our heart to race and our body to quiver or shake with increasing anxiety, when we hear or experience something that touches our soul in a pleasurable way, we might feel “chills”. Music is one of the most powerful conductors of this type of resonance.

QUESTION 7: What is the difference between an onto-energetic (non-physical being) in the 4% Universe i.e. the Universe we can perceive with our limited senses versus ones in The Void (KHAA)?

ANSWER: Some of what we consider to be non-physical “beings” aren’t actually beings at all, but rather entitized thoughtforms that have taken on a life of their own. We have created them, and we feed them with our emotions. This type of entity does not exist in the KHAA. They only exist within the non-physical realms inside this construct due to the nature of its design. There are also disincarnate humans and other beings who, after their physical incarnation is over, choose to participate in a different type of simulated reality within this construct. Many of these other simulations are what we might consider to be non-physical. In the KHAA, we are not limited by our physical senses and we are not unaware of what we are creating. Physical life experience is a choice that we make with full awareness.

Most of the onto-energetics within the Patrix are humans who have “ascended,” and they are often ignorant of the Bigger Picture, i.e. the KHAA, etc. because of programming, while the onto-energetics in the KHAA are highly aware of how things work.

QUESTION 8: I think you mentioned some spirited souls may get caught up in the singularity. What’s your opinion about someone on the path of seeking knowledge and sincerely trying to find out what’s going on around them but doesn't reach that point of understanding and knowledge about the singularity before it's in place?

ANSWER: The “test” is whether the person figures out how to exit or not. He or she can be highly aware of many things that are going on, but if they don’t have an exit plan, they will be recycled again, unless the Overlords consider that soul being “worthy” of “ascension” within the Construct because En.ki has a job for her. It’s a personal journey for each soul, and no one else but the soul herself can find the answers.

QUESTION 9: As a patron I just received your most recent article shared on your forum from a fellow member. The article was spot on about the writer’s OBEs (out of body experiences) and his seeing and visiting the Soul Recycling system, the moon, why you don't go to the light etc... I would like to encourage fellow listeners to join up with your patron program where you get these special bonus'.

My question relates to Tom Campbell: My nagging question through all of my research is he never tells us how to leave the "patrix" which he calls the LCS, "Larger Consciousness System"...someone asked that question at the sessions and Tom Campbell said: "Why would you want to do that?" ... Do you think that Tom Campbell is an AI, virtual reality PROFIT like Ray Kurzweil, Gordy Rose, Elon Musk and other front men and women?

ANSWER: Tom Campbell is a physicist as well as a metaphysicist. His goal is to be able to get the science community to accept his MY Big TOE (My Big Theory of Everything). He wants them to be able to accept that we live in a digital simulation—a Matrix. When asked questions that are too far out for scientists in general to accept, he doesn't want to discuss them because, as he says, "I will lose my credibility in the science community."

We think that Tom Campbell has been convinced by beings he has met in the non-physical realms, or layers of existence that make up the larger portion of our construct, that we belong here and it is for our benefit to move and progress through these layers of consciousness expansion. His own experiences have confirmed this to his satisfaction and so he believes it is to our benefit to remain here. Robert Monroe, who founded the Monroe Institute for research into altered states of consciousness, participated in his studies with a group of volunteer Explorers, of which Tom Campbell was one. To the best of our knowledge about these experiments, a boundary was perceived in the non-physical planes, but crossing that boundary was not an option. We cannot separate from our Earthly experience while still attached to a physical body. No one, that we know of, is told that they can leave, and so they do not know that this is an option.

The goal is to get us to stay here, whether that is by incarnating again (reincarnation) or by agreeing to participate in another simulation within this construct. Robert Monroe was convinced that these other simulations were for those humans to participate in after they had achieved a certain level of advancement through their physical incarnations. From what we can tell, Tom Campbell might believe something similar. No, we do not think he is an intentional disinformation agent or an A.I. He wants to help humankind in their growth and spiritual development, but his information has come from within this construct by beings who may have been deceiving him and manipulating his experiences.

QUESTION 10: You mentioned that there are other alien groups here on the planet. You mentioned that they are not all in agreement with the AIF. Is there actually an "alliance" (an alien force for good) that is planning to bring down the AIF (or at least its earthly minions), as mentioned by other You-Tubers?

ANSWER: Yes, there are other ETs on this planet that are not AIF, but they are few in numbers, and they normally don't directly interfere with human business. But no, it is our conclusion that there are no groups in this Construct that are working against the AIF—good OR bad, to use human terms. The exposure we see in the political field right now has to do with a changing of the guards—a New World Order. The Old Order needs to be brought down and exposed, so the New Order can replace it. Our current U.S. President seems to have the task of starting that process. This is not just us saying that—an Illuminati Insider (a Hidden Hand) leaked this information on Godlike Productions (GLP), as well.

QUESTION 11: ...Do you suppose [En.ki] showed compassion/love by saving us from the flood; therefore, [he] was forced to lie/go behind Ninurta junior's and Khan Enlil's back for our survival, [and] in turn we should forever be thankful to him? Or, was it his plan all along?

ANSWER: In the ancient texts, it certainly looks like he had compassion for humankind, but then we need to ask ourselves; who dictated the ancient texts to the scribes? En.ki and his clan did. No, he doesn't have compassion for us—he has an agenda. En.ki is a "jealous god;" he wants to show his parents that he can create graduating souls here, after having been demoted from the position as Chief Genetic Engineer on Tiamaat. Then, his goal is to invade Orion, with us as his soldiers, cannon fodder, and tickets out of here. The way it's portrayed in the ancient texts, however, is that En.ki saved humankind. That's the way he wants us to look at it.

En.ki saved his son, his own pure bloodline, so that he could continue his experiment with humanity. So, there was nothing selfless about this act. It was purely for his own benefit and rebellion against those who tried to retain some measure of authority over him. He was like a teenager who got mad for not being allowed to take the family car out for a joy ride. When mom and dad took the keys away from him, he secretly had his own key made and took the car out while they weren't looking and crashed it into oblivion. He hopes that by hiding the car in the woods, where they can't see it, they won't know what he has done. They know.
