We are all well acquainted with the technological Singularity. This state of being represents a merge of human consciousness with artificial intelligence. However, we would like to suggest that there is another Singularity; a Spiritual Singularity. This type of Singularity would represent the merge of human consciousness with Divine intelligence.

As we have been discussing lately, we are constantly moving up or down on the frequency scale of either evolution or de-evolution, depending not only on individual choices that reflect our consciousness or state of being at the time, but also as a collective soul group.

The progression toward a technological Singularity can be seen either as an improvement in the state of being of the human soul group and the advancement toward utopia or a descent into a trap for the individual and collective consciousness of the planet with freewill having been removed in favor of an idealistically efficient global society.

How you perceive this transition will depend upon your perspective. For the Singularitists, the merging of human consciousness with machine intelligence is the climax to the upward climb of progression, intelligence, and evolution of the planet to achieve an idealistic view of achievement in evolution.

Certainly, we can see the dangers in such an evolution for mankind, but for those who see this as the ultimate pinnacle of evolution, their perspective is that this is the natural growth and advancement for humanity and her unavoidable next step of progression.

For those of us who are more spiritually aligned and focused, we perceive this as a contrast in our own interpretation of advancement, and therefore, we perceive this collective movement for humanity as a type of descension on the frequency scale. For those Singularitists just mentioned, they would think the same about us. Each person's perspective will be colored by the lens through which they view the events. For those who value individuality, expression, imagination, and freewill, the advancement of technology will be perceived as something to avoid at all costs. For those who value conformity, academic intelligence, and order of design, the advancement of technology will be perceived as humanity's emerging into new golden age. It's all about perspective, remember?

In the Patrix, we are caught in a flux of polarity. Energy is constantly in motion, and so, individually and collectively, we are always moving toward one pole or another, with major and minor fluctuations between the two. If we can consider that movement toward one pole leads to a singularity, then we can correctly assume that the movement toward its opposite pole also leads to a singularity.

There has been much promotion in recent years that the purpose or the goal of the expansion of human consciousness is to merge with our own Source of divinity. We are encouraged to climb the ladder of consciousness evolution in order to move "up" in the dimensions and closer to Source consciousness. While there is nothing wrong with this spiritual progression, and indeed it can be very beneficial for one's own healing and growth, we must remember that the Source consciousness for the Patrix is a demigod who has convinced humanity of his Godhood. In the Patrix, HE is God, and he sits at the highest perspective, or in the highest dimension of this construct. As we make our way up this ladder, we should be mindful of the climb and be certain of the goals, because intentions matter, and if we have the intention to reach Source, we will find ourselves eventually firmly planted in the nest of a Father God, whose residence is effused with collected soul energy – OUR energy.

For those who have had the opportunity to visit this being where he resides, all have come away from the experience describing this God as being positioned within an unimaginably bright and brilliant light. In fact, those who encounter this light Source are in no way capable of enduring it head-on, so to speak. All must look away or receive assistance from other nonphysical beings just to be near it. He's metaphorically bathing in it. Where did he get this light? What is this light? This light is US. This is our loosh or our soul energy which is collected (individually) and harvested (collectively) in order to feed this entity. He certainly can't produce it on his own. Sometimes the truth presents itself, not as what "is," but by what it "isn't", and through the process of elimination we can find the answers we are searching for.

In the book Far Journeys by Robert Monroe, the package or rote of information he was given by a nonphysical being from outside of this construct detailed the creation of humans and compared them to a garden being grown and harvested. This detailed account included a key component, which may explain this desire that many of us feel and strive toward as the ascension process or the goal of spiritual awakening, resulting in a merge of some type with the Divine. Here is the passage in the book:

“Second, Someone pulled forth a Piece of Himself – no other source of such Substance being known or available – to act as an intensive, ultimate trigger to mobility. Following the Rule of Attraction, Someone knew that such infusion would create in this particular Mobile species an unceasing mobility. Always, it would seek to satisfy the attraction this tiny mote of Himself engendered as it sought reunion with the infinite Whole. More important, the needs and compulsions created by the Piece of Someone could not be satiated throughout the Garden.”

We are the Mobile species. En.ki is the Someone. What this passage is describing can be felt and experienced as those of us who seek to find the Source of our own Divinity. On our ever-searching and quest, that tiny aspect of him, which was placed within us, will seek to find more of itself through what we know as the Law of Attraction. He has manipulated this law of creation to keep those humans on this searching path constantly unfulfilled. Robert goes on in this rote of humanity to explain that the most desired loosh, being of such a superior quality, is produced by these humans who were modified to contain a piece of Him. It is produced by UNFULFILLMENT. This unfulfillment is at its highest loosh producing capacity when the unfulfillment is of the vibratory level of searching for this God source. Much more so than, let's say, the unfulfillment of food, material desires, or anything we may seek and fail to find within this physical life. Spiritual unfulfillment produces the most desired product. Loosh, as we know, is our soul energy, and he has manipulated creation so that humans will give him their soul energy as they seek to find God within themselves and never find him. By the way, not everyone has this aspect inserted within them. We, who have this, are a modified version, which was intentionally designed for this purpose. So, the question of why some humans "wake up" and others do not may be answered by this explanation.

So many times, we have asked, "Why would En.ki want humanity to evolve? Why would he allow such information about the nature of consciousness to be hidden here for us to find? Why would he send aspects of himself to Earth for teaching humanity these higher perspectives, which are beneficial for our spiritual growth if he wants to keep humanity as slaves?" The simple and the complex answer to this is that he is using us to produce his food and the technological Singularity may not have achieved the goal he intended. We are useless to him if we are beaten down, hopeless, zombie-like creatures who go about daily life in a spiritual coma with no searching and reaching for more of our own divinity. Robert very accurately compared this package of information he received as a type of farm, with humans being compared to cattle. Indeed! Do the farmers who want the best price for their beef neglect their cattle? Absolutely not! They care very much for the well-being of their cattle so that they are well-fed, content, and healthy. Those cattle produce the best quality product with the most benefits. So, too, with us who are constantly reaching for and achieving our union with Source consciousness (so we think) are producing the absolute best and highest quality loosh or soul energy. An intention to merge with anything that you perceive as not already having within you is a movement in the direction of being harvested in this system. It is those humans who are spiritually awakening and reaching for Source that are being groomed for the Harvest or what is being called the Ascension. We would suggest a new term for this being the Spiritual Singularity – a merge of individual consciousnesses into a Divine intelligence. En.ki is using those aspects of himself that he inserted to lure those who are moving in this direction into his fold like a piper, leading children off a cliff. Very much like a magnetic attraction, we are pulled to him by this force.

Barbara Marciniak's Pleiadians use Barbara as their vehicle in order to deliver En.ki's warning about technology and the rise of the technological Singularity. If he wants this to happen, then why is he warning us against it? From what they have shared, the result of the technological Singularity will eventually be an attack on the Pleiades AGAINST En.ki, which does not want to happen. As we are all contemplating the concept of all time being simultaneous, we can better understand how En.ki, from his vantage point of the highest perspective or dimension within this construct, is able to see all things at once. He sees the beginning, the middle, and the end. He is the Alpha and the Omega.

The thorn in En.ki's side regarding humanity, according to the Pleiadians, is humanity's unpredictability. As En.ki set humanity on the course of technological advancement into an A.I. Singularity, he probably saw the result as it played out according to his intentions, with a break-out and an attack on Orion, using us; our soul energy and avatars; to "ride" in this military style advancement into the KHAA. As it has turned out, however, because remember that everything has already happened in some dimensions or perspective, our unpredictable nature has instead resulted in dire consequences for him. If he allowed humanity to continue on this course, unabated, he risks having to deal with this consequence. So, what might he do? He might decide to steer humanity onto a different course or timeline to achieve a different result. This different result may not include a technological Singularity at all! Instead, by collecting our soul energy into another containment system or a different type of "cloud" system and hiding himself in their midst (enveloped by their Light, perhaps?), he may decide to turn humanity loose into the KHAA, while using humanity as a Trojan Horse. Anything is possible and everything should be considered, especially when we are at risk for being used in such a way and what our responsibility may be in this involvement.

Does the technological Singularity timeline just disappear? No. It has already been created and so it keeps moving forward on its own with those humans who are focused on it, keeping it firmly solid and fixed. However, if En.ki can get the "ascended" humans off this timeline, he can get out of here before an attack, and the strength of the attack might be diminished with fewer souls occupying that particular timeline.

A year ago, we made a video on the formation of timelines and how we are constantly moving back and forth and creating new timelines which were in alignment with our choices. As we make a new decision that puts us on a different timeline than the one we were on previously, the “old” timeline becomes less fixed. Things manifest as we focus on them or think about them, and when we begin to take our thoughts in a new direction, old thoughts and the manifestation of those thoughts are allowed to dissolve. Without our focus, they are no longer supported. As En.ki is able to interfere with humanity from the highest perspective in this patrix, he has the ability to insert aspects of himself into each and every era of humanity, simultaneously, to help steer and guide humanity in turning away from the technological Singularity and developing their consciousness instead. This would be a much more powerful energetic movement with enough strength for him to use as an alternative and more effective escape. By using humanity’s innate desire to grow and expand in Love, he is able to use this natural progression, artificially enhance it by injecting an ascension program, send “guides” and other physical and nonphysical beings to confirm these things to people who are willing to spread the messages, and trick humanity into a harvest or rapture type scenario where they will be fooled into thinking they are going “home”. Yes, indeed, we will be going home, but who might we be bringing with us?

En.ki might think that he will be allowed back into Orion if he shows up with all the “graduated” humans gathered around him. Would his mother turn them all away? Can he sneak in with them? Afterall, they contain a piece of HIM, don’t they? By carrying ourselves over the threshold of Orion’s door, do we carry En.ki in with us? We don’t know what the plan is, but we can be certain there is never only one plan, especially when the original plan has already been shown to not move in his favor. Nothing is out of bounds to being used for his manipulation, even love. In fact, what would be a more effective way to gather the Divine and highly conscious/aware human soul group? We pay very close attention to our shackles when they are too obvious. Don’t be naïve and assume that our only chains are those we can recognize. Pay attention to the wolf dressed as a sheep.

Humanity may find itself divided soon. There will be those left to carry out the technologically advanced timeline, and the others may find themselves harvested in preparation to returning home. We don’t know. All we can suggest is to know what your intentions are and have them firmly established. You will find yourself where you expect to be. It's that simple. Going anywhere in a group is risky. It's better to go alone, where only YOUR intentions are propelling you forward. It's too easy to get carried away by the movement of a crowd when we don't know where we are supposed to go.

You do not need to ascend through this patrix design in order to attain a higher state of being. We were already at that level of consciousness before we were made to forget who we are, before we were blinded by a being who is using our own Light as his camouflage. We only need to remember this and stop allowing ourselves to be manipulated by doubt, worry, and fear.

We also should remember who he is. He is a trickster, an imposter, a mimic. His divine aspect within us is meant to suppress and mask our own divine aspect, which is at the core of our being. The artificial overlay that has been placed upon our soul leads to this constant searching. When we manage to dissolve and disable this overlay (or artificial soul) more and more, we find that TRUE aspect of Divinity within us and then there is no more unfulfillment. Everything you were searching for is right there, within you, and unfulfillment is replaced by fulfillment. Fulfillment doesn't produce loosh. And if anyone offers to take you anywhere just say, "No, thank you. I can get there on my own." You can.
